CITY NEWS.

MAIL FAILURES .- Both Eastern mails failed yesterday, and the Louisville and St. Louis mails last night. This is so common a matter that it hardly deserves notice. When shall we have complete postal arrangements?

CHRISTMAS OTSTERS AT WAGGONER'S .- Oysters are rolling in at Waggoner's depot, Western-row, above Fifth, as thick as June birds. Be sure to buy of Waggoner, and you will get the best in the city.

GREAT DISPLAY .- Those wishing to see a fine display of Christmas meats should drop in at Arch V. Stewart's, north-east corner Fifth and Park-streets. His display can be seen this evening and to-morrow morning, and consists of the finest meats in the market.

Confectionenies .- Remember that N. Mo. ris, 264 Race-street, is prepared to furnish, upon the shortest notice, confections of every kind, for private or public parties, and for family use. Persons patronising Mr. M. will find everything of the best quality.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS At their regular session yesterday morning the County Commissioners passed orders amounting, in the aggregate, to $722 74, of which $608 40 were paid to John Kistner for work upon the new jail. Apart from this no business of importance was transacted. FIRE YSSTERDAY MORNING .- A fire broke out yesterday morning, in the wire manufac-tory of Joseph Bromwell, No. 181 Walnutstreet, but the flames were extinguished be-fore a great deal of damage had been done. The loss will not reach $100, which was fully covered by insurance. CHRISTMAS OYSTERS .- Peter Cavagua, 31

West Fifth-street, has on hand and is receiv-ing daily superb oysters, unequaled by any others imported to the Queen City. Citizens desiring good oysters should not fail to test the superior qualities of Cavagna's during the holidays.

A Luxury.—Sleigh riding in this city is a very expensive luxury. Ferguson, corner Ninth and Vine, gives a free ride to all who may favor him with their orders for Oysters and other Christmas goods. He delivers all goods by sleigh while the snow lasts. Send your orders and get a ride.

UNPAID LETTERS .- The following is a list of etters detained for non-payment of postage at the Postoffice, in this city, December 22:

Messra. Scruggs & Co., Little Bock, Ark.
John W. Harber, Waterton, N. J.
Messrs Tilden & Co., Lebanon, N. Y.
John Travis, M. P., Mariborough, Tenn.
Mrs. M. A. Stevens, Columbus, Ind.
Miss Julia Stone, Oxford, Ohio.
Miss Nollie Gray, St. Louis, Mo.
Indanapolis Haliroad Company, Lawrenceburg, nd.

Soires Dansantes .- The next soires mite of Mr. and Mrs. Shank will take place Opera-house. The arrangements for the party are complete in every respect, and it is expected that it will be among the finest of the

The Marseilles Dancing Club also give a party at the same place on Monday evening, 26th inst. The Committee of Arrange ments intend to render this all that the votaries of Terpsichore could desire, and we doubt not they will fully succeed.

CERISTMAS DINNES FOR THE BETHEL SUNDAY SCHOOL.—The officers of the Bethel Sunday School, as will be seen by an advertisement in another column, have determined to give their pupils a Christmas dinner on Monday next, the 26th inst., and for that purpose solicit do-nations of provisions from the friends of the institution. Four or five hundred children, it is expected, will be present, and most of them are of a class almost destitute of the necessaries of life. To have the gratitude of so many young hearts will be a sufficient inducement to those interested in the schools to make this an affair that will live in the minds of the pupils until the end of time, as a pleasan

About Holiday Girts.—We have a a word to say about this matter to the readers of our journal. To obtain a gift which shall be both instructive and amusing for the little folks, requires but a trifling amount of thought for the judicious parent; but what will most please wife, daughter or female friend, is, perhaps, a question requiring more reflection and judgment. A "Sewing Machine," by which we mean, of course, one worthy of the name, and which really, by its perfect operation, dispenses with the labo: of hand-sewing. The gentleman—be he husband, father or friend—who presents such an instrument to a lady for a Christmas or New Year's gift, in our humble journal. To obtain a gift which shall be both a Christmas or New Year's gift, in our humble opinion, bestows a souvenir at once fascinatopinion, bestows a souvenir at once fascinating in the extreme, useful and ornamental; for a prettier piece of furniture for a lady's boudoir, than a mahogany or black-walnut cabinet, disclosing when opened an instrument so indispensable, can hardly be found. And now, reader of ours, if your taste coincides with uses the rest of the present And now, reader of ours, if your taste coincides with us as to the most appropriate and acceptable, as well as elegant, gift to your lady friend at this time, we will state, for your information, as to where such an instrument may be had, that we, some months since, after personal examination of the different sewing machines now before the public, decided and an acceptance of the services of the decided upon and obtained for our family use one of Mesers. Ladd, Webster & Co.'s elegant cabinet machines, and have had it in almost constant use since its reception. We have be-fore, and over our own signature, commended this machine to public notice, believing that if it has an equal it has no superior, in every excellence which pertains to the sewing machine in a perfect state.—Ballou's Pictorial.

SHERIFF'S SALES .- The attendance at the Sheriff's sales of real estate yesterday morning was quite large, and the bidding spirited. The following pieces were disposed of, being nearly all that were offered:

Police Court.-Twenty-six persons examined, yesterday morning, before Judge Lowe, but only one or two of them are worthy of record, the remainder being wholly without

Daniel Kahn, who our readers will remem-ber was arrested on Monday last, upon a charge of assault with intent to kill, commitcharge or assaute with interest at the Butcher's Ex-change, near the Brighton House, upon a young man named Henry Frank, was deemed guilty and held to bail in the sum of $2,500 for his apperance at the next term of the Court of Common Pleas. The circumstances connected with the affair have already been related at length, and it is therefore unnecessary to speak of them here, further than to say that Kahn struck Frank upon the head with a boulder tied in a handkarchief, and fractured his skull, in consequence of which he is still confined to his bed with very little prospect of recovery.

A party of men on Sunday night last entered a house on the corner of Eighth and Main, and by threats and violence sought to deter a couple of women who resided there from appearing as witness against a man who was upon trial in the Court of Common Pleas for an attempted constupration. The police entered the building and arrested Robert Mc-Kim, Michael Burger, John Larkin, and Timothy Carroll, all of whom were examined yesterday morning before Judge Lowe. The latter was discharged, but the others were fined $10 and cost each for their conduct. Three notorious females who created a dis-amour kept by Julia Dye, on Vine-street, near Sixth, were fined five dollars and costs for disorderly conduct. A man named Burke, who was found in the street by some policemen at an early hour yesterday morning, overcome by the combined ffect of liquor and cold to such an extent that life was almost extinct, and taken to the station house and resuscitated, was fined three dollars and costs. John Neehan, day before yesterday, committed an assault upon Patrick Cochran, was arrested therefor, taken before Judge Lowe nd sentenced to the dungeon of the County Jail for a term of three days and compelled to pay a fine of $10 and costs for the indulgence of his pugilistic propensities.

The Ohlo at this point is still at a stand, but it must decline very soon, although the river is announced as rising above, if the present cold weather continues. Alice has not yet appeared here, but it is floating in considerable quantities one hundred miles above, and boats bound for the upper ports will have difficulty no doubt in reaching their desilnation.

ports will have difficulty no doubt in reaching their desination.

The temperature lowered yesterday, and the thermometer last evening stood at 15 degrees. The atmosphere was nipping, and the snow covering all outward objects gave everything a very wintry appearance. But few days like yesterday will be required to seriously intercupt navigation.

There are now in the Canal at Louisville about niue fest of water, and boats drawing no more than five feet can pass over the Falls.

Business at the Landing was rather dull yesterday, and freights were scarce to all points. None were offering for Wheeling and Pittsburg, and some of the steamers bound in that direction have concluded to change their destination.

Monetary and Commercial,

Eastern Exchange was firmer yesterday than on Wednesday, and dealers were paying M readily, and sometimes 30c, premium for all first-class checks on Philadelphis and New York. The zelling rate was steady at ½ prem.

Money continued very stingent, but the market was more quiet than it had been on any previous day of the week, and the checkings comparatively moderate. As Eastern Exchange advanced pesterday morning to 1% premium in Chicago, Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin Paper was put up on Third-street from 1445 discount.

XXXVIth CONGRESS... 1st SESSION.

WASHINGTON, December 22.

SENATE.—The Chair presented a communication from the officer in charge of the Capitol extension, respecting the heating and resultating apparatus in the north wing of the building.

Mr. Mailory, of Florida, introduced a bill amending the act to promote the progress of the useful arts.

Mr. Lane, of Oregon, introduced a bill making an appropriation for the payment of the expenses in curred by the people of Oregon and Washington to suppress the indian heatilities therein; also, a bill to extend the laws and judicial system if the United States to Oregon.

Mr. Gwin, of Cal., introduced the Facilic Railroad Bill, and gave notice that he should call it up at an early day.

Bill, and gave notice that he should call it up at an early day.

Mr. Saulabury, of Del., introduced a bill, making an appropriation for the erection of piers in Delaware Bay.

Mr. Barlan, of lowa, introduced a bill to reimburse the State of lowa for moneys expended in the suppression of Indian hostilities.

Mr. Clay, of Ala., introduced a bill for the repeal of all laws granting shing bounties.

Mr. Davis, of Miss., gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill for the Territorial organization of Arizona.

introduce a bill for the territoria.

Ar. Sidell offered a resolution that when the Sentire and the side of the si HOUSE-Mr. Farnsworth, of Ill., was en-the ionoversation the resolution was adopted, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE—Mr. Farnsworth, of Ill., was entitled to the floor, but he gave way to enable Mr. Carter, of New York, to move that the House proceed to yote for Speaker.

Mr. Carter said itappeared to him that this was he last day before the holidays that they could effect an organization. He should like to hear his riend, Mr. Farnsworth, were it not that gentleman should devote the whole day in the effort to organize. The whole country is looking to an organization his morning that four millions of dollars are due in contractors, and most of them are now here implesting the members to make an appropriation for their pay.

A call of the House was then made, but as it was secertained that about eighteen members were absent, it was thought best not to proceed to a vote. Mr. Anderson, of Ky., wanted first an organization and then gentlemen might discuss the elavery question to their heart's content. He was opposed to its agitation. He favored the suforcement of all laws, and there wanted the question to rest. He would not have rison now, had not his colleague dir. Burnetty yesterday asked him why he did not take a particular course. He had not voted for a bemocratic nomines since he came to the House, and would not, except an issue is made between the Hepublicans and Domocratis. He hoped such an issue would never arrive. He did not desires united South nor a united North, he belonged to a party in opposition to the Administration, and they were not for a united South nor a united North, which the next consus will show to have the preponderance. If you make it a question of dollars and cents, where would be the Southern interests?

Mr. Morris, of Md., said Mr. Bernett could exercise his own judgment. He was willing to leave it to the people outside of this House to pronounce upon the reasons of votion for Mr. Gilmer, assigned by Messrs. Garnett and Burnett.

Mr. Million said without any agency his own name had been used in the canvess. He did not think

Mr. Wanslow offered a resolution that on and after to day no vote shall be taken for Speaker until the second Monday in January. He said it was evident the House could do nothing just now to effect an organization. They were approaching the holidays, which even the slaves in the South enjoyed. He thought it best to adjourn ever, that gentlemen might go home and catch some of the patriotic feelings of their constituents.

Mr. Washburne, of Mr., and others, on the Republican side, objected to the reception of the resolution.

Mr. Grow thought only two motions were in order.

sir. Washburne, of Me., and others, on the Republican side, objected to the reception of the recolution.

Mr. Grow thought only two motions were in order, either to proceed to vote or to adjourn. The discussion of the slavery question had been thrust upon the House by those who ext out 'No agitation.' Republicans have eat here with closed lips while the grossest perversions of their doctrines have been made by men who claim to be fair-minded. Now while we owe $3,000,000 to those who have performed service under written contracts and have been waiting six months for their pay, it was proposed that the gentlemen so home and leave the government bankrupt. He asked whether the government's plighted faith should be preserved above all to contractors who have rendered important services. They have been stiting here listening to speeches which have appeared in substance in the New York Herald for the past six months; that paper furnishes the brains, while the discussion only lacks the spice and terseness of its style. All read these editorials with interest. Gentleme a hore have been advertising Helper's book, which they say is destructive to the peace and rangulity of the 1 mon, and giving it a wide circulation, which the Republican committee had failed if the book was incendiary, ascharged, and disturbed the peace of the country so much, those who have been discussing the slavery question so much are responsible for it. The Republicans had not spread broadcast this book.

Mr. Davidson and several others reminded Mr. Grow that he had indosed the circulation of Helper's compendium.

Mr. Grow repited that the Republicans saked to be judged by their platform and record and not by the perversions of newspapers. When any mancharged him with being an accomplice of murder, treason and other crimes, he had no other answer than to treat it with the contempt it deserved. He was wither the process and pay these contractors five millions take no part in the discussion which delays the organization. They would consent to no adjou

Senator Crittenden.

New York, December 22.—The Herald publishes a report of Senator Crittenden's speech at the conference of the Uppositionists, held at Washington Tuesday night.

Mr. Uritsonden referred to the failure of the House tacle painful to the country. He did of pretend to organize. The protracted delay presents a speedacle painful to the country. He did of pretend to the have carnestly sought the line of duty. It seemed to him that knowing nuthing of the speedacle has the heavy the help have carnestly sought the line of duty. It seemed to him that knowing nuthing of the purposes of the volument of the contest. He fait that ground which is good to stand on, is good to fall on. But, the continued, looking away from the contest and abroad over the country, we find much to distress every true patriot.

In the present state of the public mind I confeet that never before in my life did I feel such anxiety for the fate of our government. I have never believed it possible that I could bring my mind to the deliberate purpose of palling down this great fabric. I do not think that any of as have reached that point, and, though we should think so, I am constrained to think that when we come to the attempt we should turn in the heror from the work. For think of it—what is the deed proposed? Is it one too great, too rash for any mind to fully comprehend? I hardly dare think of it. If we could overturn the Alleghamy Mountains to were full ou cartil would appead such horror among more as the falling rules of this Republic. Deep sensation. I cannot believe that we are on the verge of such a mighty calamity. I trust, see, the leave of such a mighty calamity. I trust, see, the leave of such a mighty calamity. I trust, see, and they interest on the borders of some of our States, and John Frown's deeds at Harger's Ferry and the providence which are provided whencodes it come. Certain deluded people in the North are making much mischief, but but let us remomber that there will be found mischief makers in every country. Let us hope that this p than that, [Applause.] If therefore, we must fight, let us stay in the Union—and charge upon those that appress us, that they are trying to set as ide the Union by going out_of it. Applause.] To destroy the Union is the very last thing we should ever think of, for if we some break down the government who shall sebuild it again. Let us observe instice, and thus shall we preserve our Union, and my sentiment is. "Let us take care of the Union and the Union will ske care of us."

In the continuon the spaaker was greeted with long-continued and hearty applause.
